

Technical Writing in Forensic Science

Technical Writing

written communication intended to inform an audience of practical or scientific knowledge

Prosecutor

attorney who presents the case against a defendant in criminal court

Juror

individual serving on the jury of a trial

Generalization

general statement made about a larger group based on a smaller number of objects within the group

Conciseness

quality of expressing ideas quickly without vague or unnecessary words

Scannable

ability for a text to be read quickly in a glance

Data

facts and statistics

Genre

group or classification of texts which are similar in style, form or subject matter